

The 14-Day CBD Trial Diary

Concrete beats memory. Give the same dose twice a day, every day, and check off each sign on the days you notice it. After two weeks, the pattern tells you whether it is helping.

How to run the trial: note or video the things your pet struggles with before you start, keep the dose and timing consistent (twice a day, about every 12 hours), and change nothing else while you judge. Effects often build gradually over two to three weeks. If you can check several boxes by week two, and CBD is the only thing you changed, that is your signal.

If drowsiness or a soft stool shows up, the dose may be a touch high; lower it. If nothing has changed after two to three weeks at an appropriate dose, bring this page to your veterinarian and talk about other options. CBD is a supplement and does not replace veterinary care.
